

BRAVE GIRL FACES THIEF IN COURT

Miss Emma J. Palmer, who seized and fought highwayman after he snatched her purse, appears against him.

PRISONER'S FEATURES BRUISED AND SCRATCHED.

Young woman's hand severely injured by iron bar with which robber struck her—Man held for grand jury.

John M. Cordes, nineteen years old, of No. 9 Hopkins avenue, Jersey City, was held in $2,000 bail for the grand jury by Magistrate Higginbotham in the Lee Avenue Court today on a charge of highway robbery. The prisoner showed the marks of a strenuous encounter in his scratched and bruised features, and every now and then glanced nervously in the direction of a tall, headstrong young woman who stood in the rear of the court room.

This young woman was the complainant in the case and had pluckily captured and hung on to the prisoner after he attempted to escape with her purse. She also had inflicted a dozen deep scratches on his face as he endeavored to fight her off. She hung resolutely to him until several detectives arrived to her assistance.

She is Miss Emma J. Palmer, twenty-three years old of No. 151 Lee avenue, Williamsburg. She was returning to her home after a shopping tour last evening, and as she passed the Southern Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, at Bedford avenue and Hoes street, the prisoner rushed out from a corner of the edifice and with an iron bar struck her hand with which she was carrying her purse. Then he snatched the pocketbook and ran.

Though her hand was severely injured, Miss Palmer dropped the hand as she carried and ran after the highwayman. She was followed by several detectives who had been watching for a "black flag" agent, who had appointed a rendezvous at the church.

Miss Palmer rapidly overhauled the thief and seized him about his neck with one arm. He struggled at her and attempted to free himself from her grasp. She held on, returning blow for blow, until the detectives came up and placed him under arrest.

Miss Palmer's injured hand was done up in bandages when she appeared in court today, and she said she feared that one of the small bones in her wrist was broken. After she presented her complaint the prisoner was held for the grand jury.

Seventh Annual Show of the Field Club Promises Well.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Oct. 6.—The seventh annual show of the Field Club of Morristown opened this afternoon on the club grounds and will continue the rest of the week. The entries numbered one for exceeding numbers of preceding years, and include many blue ribbon winners. A spacious show ring has been prepared, and private boxes, parking spaces and a promenade provided for the accommodation of visitors. The show promises to be the most successful yet given by the club.

The classes judged this afternoon were: harness horses, 15 hands and under; pairs of harness horses, over 15; polo ponies, runabout horses, roadsters, saddle horses, over 15.5; pairs of harness horses over 16; heavyweights, harness, wheelers to be over 16; harness, saddle, over 16 and not exceeding 16.5; harness horses, ladies to drive; maiden hunters of jumpers and four-hands.

H. WALTER WEBB'S WIDOW TO MARRY

Ogden Codman, Jr., of Boston, the bridegroom-elect, and wedding ceremony will be performed Saturday.

Mrs. H. Walter Webb, of Hingham, Massachusetts, widow of H. Walter Webb, former third vice-president of the New York Central Railroad, will be married at noon on Saturday at her home to Ogden Codman, Jr., an architect with offices in this city and Boston.

The Rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, of Scarborough, will officiate. Only near relatives and intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom will be present. The bride will be given away by her eldest son, H. Walter Webb, a freshman at Yale. A brother of the bridegroom will officiate as best man.

Mrs. Webb was Miss Lulu Howard Griswold, daughter of John A. Griswold, of Troy. She was married to H. Walter Webb in 1884. Mr. Webb died in Scarborough in June of 1899, and left to his widow and his two sons an estate valued at $200,000.

Ogden Codman, Jr., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Codman, of Boston, and belongs to an old family connected with the Sturges, and the Bowditch families. He is an architect, a prominent member of the Knickerbocker Club, of this city, and of the Somerset Club, of Boston.

He has a city residence at No. 13 East Seventy-ninth street and a country house at Lincoln, Mass., where he and Mrs. Webb with several members of the Codman family now live. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Codman will spend a few days in Italy, and then start on a tour through Europe which will last several months.

IRON POST CRUSHES A MAN.

Martin Hodge, fifty-two years old, of No. 42 St. Nicholas avenue, who ran a machine shop at No. 61 Beekman street, died in the Gouverneur Hospital today from injuries sustained last Friday while superintending the taking apart of some machinery. A heavy iron upright toppled over and crushed Mr. Hodge's legs, the wound proving fatal. Hodge leaves a wife and two children.

The Coward Shoe

For the foot in need of support, the arch, the Coward Combination Shoe has no equal. Being two widths narrower than the regular size at instep and heel, it answers its purpose as no other shoe has ever done.

5,000 yards silk striped velvets Friday 29c.

OF course you know such a low price on velvets has never been quoted before, and now that they are so popular it's really a sensation bargain, and when we tell you that you can go elsewhere and you'll not find velvets to equal these for less than $1.00 per yard.

29c

We wouldn't think of making this assertion, that this is the best bargain in velvets ever offered in New York, if we did not know what we were talking about. Of course there'll be a great crowd here Friday—but there are plenty of these $1 velvets at the extraordinary price of 29c.

5,000 yards of colored 27 inch taffeta—value $1, at 49c.

Spindling variety of colors, but not every shade represented—undoubtedly the most sensational value that has come your way. We've 5,000 yards, but it's a small lot considering the wonderful demand for this quality of taffeta—special..... 49c $15.75 for women's $22.50 suits.

THEY were made to our order and are strictly tailored-made throughout. We gave the manufacturer one of our very best $35 models, and asked him to make us two hundred suits at a price, we to furnish the materials, because we wanted them made from the very latest fabrics.

By having 200 made up on one order we got the price down so we can offer you these suits Friday at $15.75, and you'll say that they are the handsomest suits offered in all New York at the price.

Now just read a short picture of them and bear in mind that they are the very latest fall styles, made from fabrics that have not been of the looms a fortnight—made of fine quality of Panne Cheviot in blue, black and the new brown shades—lined with taffeta silk and handsomely trimmed—cost has semi-letting back—no smarter models shown this season—would be a bargain at $22.50—Friday, or as long as they last, at..... $15.75

$10 for correct tourist coats; Those hand-some 42-inch coats, double-breasted (like cut), with plait in back—with belt—plaited sleeve—coat has two plaits in front—Friday at $10.

$9.25 for misses' $12.75 tourist coats of high-grade covert cloth—collarless—lined with stitched panne velvet, full sleeve with reversed cuff—sizes 14 and 16.

$7.50 for girls' $9.75 full length coats of Paca Thibet, double-breasted, fancy shoulder cape, trimmed with contrasting color broadcloth, braid and buttons—sizes 6 to 14.

Ready to trim turbans

THE CUT below will convey but a faint conception of the exclusive style-beauty to be found in our excellent stock of

Ready to trim turbans.

Now just imagine the above—made of fine quality of Panne velvet, with clameon metallic silk used as a contrasting color trimming—a bunch of roses, buckle, fancy feather or ostrich plume completes an $4.95 to $5.75 artistically trimmed hat..... $4.95 to $5.75

Exceptional offering—500 doz. velvet and felt turban and continentals in color and black—if sold in the regular way would be $1.75; special at..... 95c

Another $3.95 sale: boys' suits.

It's for you to say they're the greatest Friday bargains in New York—a fact you'll recognize when you see these suits and overcoats. Not only that, but if you make a tour of the other stores you'll find the same qualities priced all the way up to $7.50. Every one of these rare values portends active selling in our clothing department to-morrow.

The overcoats come in two styles—one exactly like the cut shown herewith—made of genuine frieze, in Oxford, blue and black—every coat has a guarantee sewn on the sleeve—warranted strictly wool—cut very long and loose—either belt back or plain—lined with a very heavy Farmer satin—silk velvet collar—7 to 10 years—at $3.95.

Boys' suits worth to $7.50, $3.95—The new Norfolk suits with bloomers and trousers—breeches and fancy mixtures—correct reet reet—correct overcoats—Russian suit, and sailor suits worth up to $7.50, at..... $3.95

250 men's overcoats at $10.

You cannot do better at $15 in any other store—just another of our Friday specials.
